

HEXAGON ACTIVITY 1

OVERARCHING QUESTION: What is the appropriate ethical framework to determine priorities given competition for resources?

Seven clusters (within blue hexagons) of questions were created.

BLUE HEXAGON: How does politics affect good public development?

What impact will a change of government have on the policy agenda for Queensland?

How do you take the politics out of politicians so they become true leaders?

BLUE HEXAGON: How will sustainable and affordable service delivery be achieved for all Queenslanders?

How do we align and integrate resources and governance to achieve better health and well being for community?

How do we maintain a sustainable and affordable health system?

How do we build and maintain relationships / networks so that we can work together to meet the needs of all people in communities across Queensland?

How do we enhance the life of Queenslanders through coordinated service delivery of governments and non-governments?

BLUE HEXAGON: How is public policy developed more participatively?

What will it take to shift from risk averse adversarial approach to truly participative approaches to policy development?

How do we engage the community to shape the future Queensland?

How do we take into account all of the agenda and the interest of the whole of the Queensland community in policy forming?

BLUE HEXAGON: How will the tension between short term agendas and long term sustainability be resolved?

How does Queensland meet economic and social demands and prepare for future change?

How do we move from self interest to interest based?

How do we move away from absolutes in order to facilitate organic / adaptive progress?

How can we ensure that social issues are responded to appropriately when there are bigger agenda items for government?

How do we manage the tension between the need for economic investment, a civil society and future sustainability in a constrained environment?

BLUE HEXAGON: What does growth and progress look like in Queensland?

Is Queensland sustainable?

How does Queensland maintain engagement with individuals through economic, political and social growth?

Do we know what progress is and the dimension of progress?

Will Queensland be a great place for my kids in 20 years?

How do you arrest breakdown of family unit no matter where you live in Queensland?

BLUE HEXAGON: How are the needs of individuals met?

How do I provide optimal care to the group of girls in special care that are primarily gynaecological and who fall between the cracks of paediatric and adult services?

What is the future of small individualised responses?

How do we manage growth and maintain liveability and quality in lifestyles?

How do we deliver health services to individuals in their communities where they support networks are?

How do we ensure that children and young people and adults with a disability can access the right service at the right place at the right time?

BLUE HEXAGON: how is an equitable, just and inclusive community created, or not?

What shifts are required in our ways of being and doing to ensure our movement into more civil relationships, communities, Queensland society?

How do we create a world where everyone is acknowledged for the gifts they bring (not seen as a burden)?

Increasing community capacity and responsibility to better address social needs / issues?

How do we harness the power of the people to create a socially just and equitable society?

How do we develop a community in Queensland that meets the needs of all community members?

How do we re-kindle a sense of community?

How can we carve communities to be fully inclusive, social, infrastructure, cultural economic – the quality of everyday living for all?

Are we going to be able to create / have a cohesive and fair community?

How will Queensland identify itself

- Its values and beliefs?
- Its ability to include all citizens?

Will Queensland develop a civil society?

What makes up that system?

How do you minimise vulnerability?