What is the Executive Challenge Academy Foundations in Leadership Paul Ziebarth Memorial Program?

This short course gives participants an opportunity to discover your own leadership style, and learn how and why that impacts on teams, organisations and community issues. You will network with peers from across different industries and sectors and learn how to open up to positive change, engage the whole system, and achieve measurable results. You will create a powerful collaborative learning lab that will foster deep personal insights, enhance personal skills and increase your overall leadership effectiveness.

Who Should Attend?

People from organisations or community groups who lead others or want to gain more insight and experience in how to do that.

Paul Ziebarth

Superintendent Paul Ziebarth was an esteemed member of the Executive Challenge Academy in his Leadership role as an alumni of the ECA. He was part of the design team for the Masterclass and the Hague Live case Study. These programs were introduced in 2016 and Paul passed away before he was able to experience the results of his hard work. When we considered how to remember Paul's Leadership work we considered a number of possibilities. His closest colleagues reminded us about Paul's dedication to what he called "the young folk". In honour of his commitment to early career leaders we now commit to the foundations for leadership programme in his honour. Each programme will offer two scholarships in Paul's name.
